

LIFELINE TERMS AND CONDITIONS

Lifeline is a federal benefit that makes monthly telephone or internet services more affordable for eligible households. Lifeline offers a monthly benefit of up to $5.25 towards telephone services or $9.25 for internet services for eligible subscribers. To receive Lifeline, an applicant, his or her dependent, or someone in his or her household must meet eligibility criteria established by the Federal Communications Commission (FCC). Lifeline is available on only one phone line (home or wireless) or internet service (home or wireless) per household. For the purposes of Lifeline, a household is defined as an individual or group of individuals who live together as one economic unit (they share income and expenses). A lifeline customer may not transfer his/her Lifeline discount to another person, regardless of whether the other individual qualifies.

To qualify for Lifeline, you must participate in any of the following programs:

- Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP)
- Medicaid
- Supplemental Security Income (SSI)
- Federal Public Housing Assistance (FPHA)
- Veterans Pension and Survivors Benefit
- Income is 135% or less than the Federal Poverty Guidelines

If you are a survivor of domestic violence, human trafficking, and related crimes, under the guidelines of the Safe Connections Act (SCA), you may be eligible to receive the Lifeline benefit.
